

Information for Teachers

Thank you for downloading this resource. I hope you find it helpful in your writing instruction. If you like it, I hope you'll check out other resources and information featured on my blog. You might consider joining my blog group www.allstarela.com or following me on TeachersPayTeachers <https://www.teacherspayteachers.com/Store/All-star-Ela> to be notified whenever I post new resources and add freebies. I'm always adding new materials. I also have several Pinterest boards you could follow: <https://www.pinterest.com/allstarela/pins/>

If you want to use the rubrics exactly as designed, you can use the PDF version of each one. The Word version is the same, but it does allow you to customize the rubric with edits.

It you want to edit the rubric, you must download and install the fonts below to maintain the original appearance.**

FONTS

The fonts I used to create these rubrics are free for personal use, however due to copyright rules I cannot include them with this file. I have included links, though, so you can locate them easily. (If you use the PDF version of the rubrics, there's no need to install fonts.)
